Congressional Mandate

- Serve as a national point of contact for antiterrorism information sharing among Federal, State and local preparedness agencies as well as private and public organizations dealing with these issues.
- Conduct research into the social and political causes and effects of terrorism...through our automated information systems.
- Conduct counterterrorism research and development.
- Create an Internet repository where emergency responders can share best practices, observations, and lessons learned to improve our ability to combat terrorism on U.S. soil.

MISSION

Expand and share knowledge to help prevent terrorism and mitigate its effects

CORE VALUES

- We will never forget the victims.
- No cause justifies terrorism.
- We collaborate with government while maintaining our intellectual and moral independence.
- We are non-partisan, but engage policy issues central to our mission.

Lessons Learned

- Started collecting from beginning
- Nunn-Lugar-Domenici Act: training of 120 American Cities—what was learned, how to share information, changes needed

This portion of the MIPT website will provide users with access to resources that are copyrighted, subscription-based, or otherwise not allowed for general public access. Additionally, MIPT will work to provide advanced features that are customizable to each user through this portion of the site.

At this time, logging into the MIPT website gives you access to items such as:

- ♦ The International Security & Counter Terrorism Reference Center™ (ISCTRC). The ISCTRC provides a comprehensive Open Source Intelligence Resource for analysts, risk management professionals, and students. Content includes hundreds of full text journals and periodicals, hundreds of thousands of selected articles, news feeds, reports, summaries, books, blogs, FAQ's and proprietary background information summaries that pertain to terrorism and security. ISCTRC also combines deep background from scholarly writings with expert commentary from a variety of organizations, agencies and publisher and timely reviews of recent developments across the international political, military, economic, social and technical spectrum.

Please note: Remote access to the ISCTRC database is permitted for personal, non-commercial use. However, remote access to EBSCO's ISCTRC database from non-subscribing institutions is not allowed if the purpose of the use is for commercial gain through cost reduction or avoidance for a non-subscribing institution.

- Summary: A revelation of the roots, beliefs, and practices of the "patriot"/militia movement in the United States. The book reports on the methods used to incite common citizens to join the movement, and critically examines religious justifications for hate and prejudice. Multiple quotes from movement leaders and documents illustrate their perceptions of the challenges they face and the actions they must take.

3. PDF Al Qaeda: Profile and Threat Assessment. August 2005.

This Congressional Research Service (CRS) report "analyzes the threat to U.S. security posed by the Al Qaeda organization. The State Department's report on international terrorism for 2004 deems the organization as 'the most prominent component' of a global movement of Islamic militants that has 'adopted the ideology and targeting strategies of [Al Qaeda founder Osama] bin Laden and other senior Al Qaeda leaders.' This report will not analyze all Al Qaeda-inspired movements worldwide, but it will address Al Qaeda's relationship with some of its known affiliates."
